Dear Harold,

Big surprise! Last I heard about you, you were raising fancy chickens & peddling them to the Establishment. And now you are in the writing - and - publishing business. I looked you up in our library, and sure enough, there you are - "Whitewash" & "Frame-up". I'll be reading them shortly.

Many thanks for the L.L. review - and your comments, you didn't say where the review was published; just Book World / Feb. 4 doesn't click with me. Could you let me know? To prove your point, I enclose a copy of a review from the L.A. Times - I mean, in some respects, the exact opposite from L.L.

To send you my book, I'd have to order it and pay for it. I've set a limit of $200 for free copies, and what with relatives and colleagues who have given me their books, the $200 has now vanished. And no royalties yet. So please excuse & see if you locate a copy in some library

We've been here since 1968 after many years wandering. I'm now on a post-retirement annual contract, having passed 65 2 years ago. Health is good so I'm hoping to hang on for a while - year by year. Trouble is I've got no pension, meanwhile, it's nice country here and we're certainly regular & paying the rent. Kids married long ago & Cathy & I themselves & families. Edith does sub teaching in local public schools & keeps busy. So, for an elderly Jewish couple we're not doing bad.

abi gezunt,

Maurice

P.S. After getting back to N. American, I tried to get in touch with Bob, but he very clearly avoided me. Wonder why? Ran into Karl & Woolrow some time ago. They are both top figures in academia.
